The Reds were whitewashed seven times, only succeeding in scoring two in the fifth inning and one in the seventh. Tom Foley umpired the game. Tomorrow the Chicagoes start east on their tour, and will not return till July.

The Legislature.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

If ever there was a time in the history of our State, when it was an imperative duty to exercise sound judgment in selecting candidates to represent our county at Harrisburg, now is the time. You know as well as I, that we have more than once in our day, voted for men to represent us in the Legislature whom we would not for a moment think of trusting to transact business for us personally, in any capacity. This being the case does it not seem strange that we will permit ourselves to be imposed upon from time to time in this way? Often sending men there with whom we would not like to associate—men who are as corrupt as corruption can make them? If we would pick out, and elect some of our best men to our halls of Legislation, our old commonwealth would soon take high rank, and serve as a beacon light to other States, instead of being held up to the world, as she has sometimes been in the past.

"A figure for the hand of scorn
To point her slow, unerring finger at."

We have heard several names suggested as eminently proper material to send to Harrisburg. Among which the name of C. Yeager, Esq., stands out the most prominent. Thousands of his fellow citizens can testify to his purity of character, and first class qualifications as a business man. No gentleman in the community stands higher than he in the estimation of the people. No further proof need be offered than his management of affairs at the Pennsylvania School of Reform, where the systematic economy inaugurated by him has lessened the cost of the institution per capita to a large amount, and that, too, without detracting from the comfort of the officers and inmates. He is certainly one of the very best men we know, for whatever he undertakes to do he attends to it conscientiously. His labors in the old Fourth ward Public Schools, years ago, will never be forgotten.

If the delegates to the nominating convention will look into this matter, and give it careful attention, they will confer a great favor on

If the committee rejects the article. The Left Centre will move in the Assembly to refer a similar proposition to the new commission. Should this fail, the Left Centre, as a last resort, will move the dissolution of the Assembly. In the event of an adverse vote on the motion the Deputies belonging to all sections of the Left may possibly resign en masse.

No Action Probable on the Steamboat Bill.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The Currency Bill Still Hanging Fire.

Letter from Governor Shepherd on District Affairs.

WASHINGTON, June 8, 1874.

The Steamboat Bill.

The Senate Committee on Commerce to-day, on motion of Mr. Conkling, decided to lay on the table the House bill to revise, amend and consolidate the laws relating to the security of life on vessels propelled wholly or in part by steam, commonly known as the steamboat bill. This action, unless a majority of the Senate move to discharge the committee from its consideration, will prevent action being taken on the bill by the Senate this session. The vote was unanimous, with the exception of Senator Chandler, who favored the bill.

Republican Caucus.

A caucus of Republican Senators and Representatives was held in the hall of the House of Representatives to-night, Senator Chandler in the chair and Representatives Parsons and Lynch acting as Secretaries. A proposition was offered that a Congressional Committee be appointed to visit the States of the coming elections. This was opposed by Mr. Kelley, who thought the appointment of such a committee was unnecessary, as every man should go before the people in his own way. Senator Chandler explained the political situation, and gave reason why the committee should be appointed. Mr. Lynch (colored), while advocating the appointment of a committee, spoke of the necessity for passing the civil rights bill, and said the colored voters in the States, therefore, would support the Republicans, there being no other party to which they could go. O hers spoke, but as the financial question was sought to be introduced, and as it was feared this might produce discord, the caucus avoided it by adopting the pending resolutions, and, therefore, the committee was ordered to be appointed, each State delegation selecting a member, the selections to be reported to the officers of the meeting. The caucus then adjourned.

District Affairs.

The following letter was to-day transmitted to Hon. W. B. Allison:

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Hon. W. B. Allison, Chairman of the Joint Committee on District Affairs: Dear Sir—In furtherance of the views expressed in your committee, I beg to suggest that provision be made for the following objects: First, simplification of the present form of the District Government, if being in my opinion too cumbersome and expensive; second, proper provision for the funding of the debt outstanding on account of improvements by the issue of bonds, bearing such a rate of interest as will produce par in currency, the United States guaranteeing the interest and principal thereon and making provision for a statement of the account between the General Government and the District, and that the bonds thus issued be under the authority of the Treasury Department, and at such a rate of interest as will by public advertisement bring par in currency; third, that a proper auditing commission be appointed to thoroughly examine and audit all unsettled accounts of the Board of Public Works.

Very truly yours,
ALEX. R. SHEPHERD,
Governor.

The Currency Bill.

The Committee of Conference on the Currency bill held a three hours' meeting this morning, but came to no final conclusion. There are numerous conflicting rumors as to the past and probable action of the Conference Committee, but the members continue to decline to give any information on the subject.

The Colorado Governorship.

The Senate Committee on Territories, having concluded the examination of additional charges against General McCook, decided by a majority vote to again report favorably on his nomination to be Governor of Colorado.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 8.—Last night an explosion occurred at No 1 shaft of the Nanticock mine, burning three miners and setting fire to a breaker, which was soon destroyed. While fighting the flames some burning timbers fell upon Wm. Vividu, killing him instantly. Alex. Ale, Charles Keller, Hamilton Walsh, Tom Lowell, Tom McManus, Henry Reimensnyder and Lorenz Krelis, of the gang, who were also engaged in fighting the fire, were overcome by gas and had to be carried from the mine. The first two were insensible when brought to the fresh air and have since died. The others are doing well.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN reported favorably on the House bill fixing the time for the election of Representatives from the State of Pennsylvania to the Forty-fourth Congress. Passed.

Public Documents.

The morning hour having expired, the chair called up the unfinished business, being the bill to provide for the sale of extra copies of public documents and for the distribution of regular official editions thereof.

Mr. MERRIMON offered an amendment authorizing Senators and members to frank documents now apportioned to them by law.

Mr. SHERMAN said it was evident that the bill could not be passed without debate, and he therefore moved that it be laid aside, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the bill to amend the customs revenue laws and to repeal the moieties.

Mr. LOGAN asked that on Wednesday next, after the expiration of the morning hour, be devoted to the consideration of bills from the Committee on Military Affairs. Agreed to.

The Moiety Bill.

The motion of Mr. Sherman was agreed to, and the moiety bill taken up.

Mr. BAYARD objected to the amendment of the Finance Committee inserted as a fifth section, which authorizes the United States Attorney to examine the books, invoices or papers of defendants.

The amendment was then rejected by a vote of 21 yeas to 26 nays.

Some discussion ensued upon the fourth section of the bill as passed by the House, which provides that no payment shall be made to any informer in any case where judicial proceedings shall have been instituted unless his claim to compensation shall have been established to the satisfaction of the court or Judge having jurisdiction of such proceedings, and the value of his services duly certified by said court, for the information of the Secretary of the Treasury, and it was passed without amendment.

Revised Statutes.

The House bill to provide for the publication of the revised statutes of the United States was passed pending the discussion on the moiety bill.

The Senate then adjourned.

The Civil Rights Bill.

Mr. BUTLER (Mass.) moved to suspend the rules, and take from the Speaker's table the Senate Civil Rights bill and refer it to the Judiciary Committee, with the right to report at any time.

Mr. GUNCKEL, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill in relation to bounties. He moved to suspend the rules and pass it. The bill proposes to pay all rank and file who served faithfully in the army, including those borne on the rolls as slaves, eight and one-third dollars per month for the whole time of service.

The House refused to second the motion to suspend the rules by 80 to 76.

Louisiana Contested Election.

The House then took up the Louisiana contested election case of Sheridan and Pinchback. Speeches in support of the majority report were made by Messrs. Smith (N. Y.) and Sypher, and against it by Mr. Lamar.

The discussion closed with speeches from the two contestants, Sheridan and Pinchback. The latter interested and amused the House with a descriptive description of the Louisiana election, which he declared was in all respects a fraud.

Mr. DARRELL moved as a substitute for the minority resolutions a resolution that Pinchback is entitled to a seat prima facia.

The question was passed over to be voted on to-morrow.

Conference Reports.

Mr. RUSH presented conference reports on the bill to revise the pension laws and the bill regulating pensions for total disabilities, which were agreed to.

The Famine in the South.

NEW ORLEANS, June 8.—Governor Kellogg to-day sent the following message to General Belknap, Secretary of War: "The Relief Committee report that the suffering from the overflow remains unabated in the Atchofalaya, Calcasrehe and Ouachita valleys, though there is some abatement on the banks of the Mississippi. The Committee are issuing fully forty thousand rations daily, and some districts are compelled to restrict their relief to women and children, even where work is not obtainable for the able bodied. If the General Government would order the issue of 20,000 daily rations from the first appropriation it would avert much suffering."

POLITICS LAST NIGHT.

The Latest From the Front—Arranging for the Work of To-Day—The Programme for the Conventions.

Political feeling, like the glass enclosed mercury, ran very high yesterday, and last night, but the developments, made did not make any apparent change from the general results, foreshowed in our last issue. The returns from the Primaries came in slowly but in all cases the proportion was kept up and indicated, that the estimates made yesterday morning, as to the successful candidates, would be carried out, in the Conventions to-day. The only muddle, is that concerning the Legislative ticket, and here there was a tangled web, which was confessedly too much for the shrewdest manager to unravel. Nearly every candidate of the legion who are pressing their "claims" was comfortably sanguine of success, and by practice at mathematical demonstration, had acquired a facility by last night, that was little short of the marvelous. Taking the actual facts into consideration however, there was very little data, upon which any reasonably accurate estimate of the ticket could be made.

In the city the contest promises to be very warm. There were efforts made by "outside" parties, to have a sort of compromise patched up, by which the two parties who are so evenly divided, might agree upon a harmonious basis, but no definite result had been reached at last accounts. The outlook, therefore is that the candidate who does the real dirty work in any of the Legislative Conventions to-day, on this side of the river, at least, will have to do some sharp and hard work.

In Allegheny they tried to arrange a caucus for last night, but there "Let us have Peace," efforts did not meet with encouraging success. The trouble was well expressed by one of the most active advocates of a caucus, who replied to an inquiry by saying:

"Oh, no; we can't arrange it. You see the trouble is there's been a little too much pledging going on; why I've just pumped one of the delegates and I found him pledged to six candidates. He, He, Ha, Ha. He's anxious to have the vote taken by ballot. You don't get him to get into a caucus. Nary. And that's about the fix with several of them. There'll be some rich developments to-morrow.

Thus the caucus movement failed. It was generally conceded, however, that Gerwig had "a sure thing of it" and the fight was on the other two, to fill out the ticket. Eschman who professed to have the inside view, had a little slate of his own, for these two,—none of the slates exactly agreeing. Then there were mysterious rumors to the effect that certain parties were to be thrown overboard and new men sprung and a smash up of the slate generally. The latter would certainly be a very prudential movement on the part of the Convention, for if any one of the generality of the "slates" to fill out the ticket, that were made last evening, be endorsed by the Convention, the people will undoubtedly do the smashing business themselves next fall.

The very other notable event of the day outside of the mixed scramble for Legislative honors, was the announcement that Mr. Howard did not propose to go into the Twenty-second Congressional Convention to-day, being restrained from entering it, through a holy horror of the unfairness of the Primaries, which he could not seemingly endorse by coming before the Convention. What a spectacle of the moral sublime. There certainly was something unfair about those Primaries, for were they not all one-sided, and is not a thing so singularly one-sided very unfair? Without questioning the force and beauty of this precious logic however, the people generally, unburdened by this particularly pious streak, which keeps a candidate away from the Convention, rather enjoy the square rebuke, which they have given to the political coadjutors of Mr. Howard, who endeavored to make him a cats-paw.

A LITTLE MIX.

Another interesting feature of the fray was developed last night in a conflict on the matter of appointing persons to call the different Conventions to order. Elsewhere we give the two lists and by a comparison the reader can see the changes. Both lists are given out as official, but that which appears in our advertising columns comes direct from under the hand of the chairman of the County Committee, which rather entitles it to the preference. It will be seen by reference to the two announcements, that there is a conflict in the temporary Chairmanship of County Convention No. 3. One list names John Fleming, the other John Gillhan. Legislative No. 2—Edward House, the other F. P. Cass. Legislative No. 3—George Larimer, the other W. H. McCleary. Legislative No. 5—F. P. Cass, the other T. M. Gillespie. The remainder on both lists agree. The allegiance to the Conventions named—remind our these slips out, as the information may give may "come in handy" at the opening of the Conventions.

The Conventions will be called to order at ten o'clock.

THE House has voted to admit Colorado as a State. The Senate is not likely to confirm the vote admitting New Mexico, and both may fail of admission, although Colorado is fairly entitled to it.

EX-CONSUL GENERAL BUTLER challenges the idea of Bayard Taylor that the pigmies discovered by Schweinfruth are real dwarfs, but claims they are negroes, stunted in growth from lack of food. The Springfield Republican responds to this, and apropos of Butler's residence in Egypt: "Mr. Butler's studies, during his official residence in Egypt, are understood to have related in some measure to ethnology, with perhaps especial devotion to the anthropa and gynoeco ramifications; and, although some inconsiderate person will suggest that a delicate sensibility would carefully refrain from recalling to the public nose the unfragrant notoriety of that period, we have no hesitation in recognizing his claims in that direction—at least as regards Africa."

THERE is an air of innocence in the allusions that come from Rome, of the appreciation of kind treatment of Catholics in this country, and of wonder at our persistency in keeping up our dreadful public schools that refreshing and interesting. Of course no one in this country thinks of persecuting Catholics on account of their religion, or for any other reason. And equally, of course, we shall maintain our public school system, not with reference to their influence on the Roman Catholic Church, but because we believe in educating the children that we may have an intelligent nation. Whatever success the Catholic clergy meet with in this country excites no animosity or fear, and, in brief, our people are willing to let them do their own things in their own way, provided they do not interfere with the rights of others. What the venerable Pope wonders over is the most natural thing in the world here; and what seems strange in Rome is here an affair of common occurrence. It is surprising that the Catholic hierarchy in this country do not enlighten the Pope more perfectly concerning affairs in this country.

THE resignation of the Board of Indian Commissioners, while kindly couched, reflects severely on the character of the law now pending in Congress, and the operations of the Department of the Interior. A law framed to compel gentlemen who are giving their services gratuitously to the government to dwell in Washington, is too palpable in its object to be considered for a moment. It was designed to compel the resignation of the present Commissioners, and to get that Board under the control of the political element which has run it so long before. The odor of the corruptions then practiced reaches down to the present time. We cannot afford to have them begun again. In order that this may be controlled, and a Board that commands the confidence of the country generally retained, it is necessary to prevent the enactment of the bill referred to and permit gentlemen of character and standing to fill positions on that Board. And it may be said that those who have just resigned,—Messrs. Brunot, Stuart, and others, are of just this stamp. Why the Interior Department is hostile to the Commissioners supasses our comprehension, except as it is supposable that general ideas of policy may not be identical.

JOHN BRIGHT recently delivered a temperance address in London, which abounded in practical sense. He discouraged the idea of legislation on the subject, on the ground that such laws could not be enforced, or would create riots. In place of this, he would make drinking unfashionable. He would banish wine from every table and every house in England, not by act of Parliament, but by the force of public opinion. Let people of character, those who give tone to society, cease to purchase or use liquor of any kind. Make drunkenness a social crime. Exclude the drinker from society. Mr. Bright himself has not bought or used wines or spirituous liquors since 1839; and he says that, although the step cost him some inconveniences, he does not regret it. If all the prominent men in England would do like wise, there would not be much need for the interference of Parliament. The contagion of their example would soon spread among the large portion of the population who take the rules of their action from those above them. We do not say that this is all that is needed, but so far as it goes, it is wise and practical advice. Precept, as well as example, is to be remembered, and even laws may be made that shall be the exponents of public sentiment. But beyond the laws of popular culture, laws are not generally enforced.

THE CONVENTIONS TO-DAY.

The several Conventions of the Republican party will be held to day, at the several places referred to in our local columns. We have already mentioned the nominations that are quite sure to be made, and do not need to repeat these again. The only uncertainty gathers around the Legislative Conventions, and of these we have something to say. The need of the Republican party is to have a ticket that shall possess elements of positive strength. We have heard it argued, and we recognize the validity and strength of the remark, that the liquor people are entitled to some representation on the ticket. A political party that seeks to meet the views of all classes of citizens cannot, of course, refuse recognition to positive elements in its midst. We would be glad were these not sought after or insisted on, and a ticket made that should represent the intelligence and character of our community, but as it is insisted on, it is fair to recognize that these are associated with a sufficiently numerous body of citizens to require recognition. But if this is done the temperance element is equally numerous, and cannot be overlooked. It, too, may fairly claim clear and undoubted recognition. Aside from these, we have business, the professions, and the people generally, all of which are to be considered and recognized.

We certainly hope, if the issues we refer to are admitted to recognition, that there will be an attempt to constitute a ticket that shall be generally acceptable to the people and party. It requires no labored description to indicate what this will necessitate. Every intelligent person knows just what class of persons is best adapted to represent the interests of this community in the State Legislature. And we have held from year to year, that we care less for the particular location from which a person comes than for the fact that he is the right kind of man to represent us in the Legislature of the State. If there are entanglements and difficulties an adherence to this simple principle will do much to solve the entire trouble.

There has been much talk, in Allegheny, of looking outside the list of regular candidates, if necessary to secure a thoroughly good class of legislators. Of the necessity for this we do not speak, as to do so might seem invidious. But of the importance of securing a thoroughly, unexceptionable list of candidates, whether within or without the list presenting themselves, we do speak confidently and plainly. Of the reason for this we need not speak at length. The people are unsettled, and annoyed. They feel that efforts of a very extraordinary character have been made to force objectionable candidates upon them. This, did the result of the Conventions seem to confirm it, would be fatal to the success of the ticket. Hence it is that it is important to put in nomination a ticket so absolutely unexceptionable, that the people shall realize that their wishes and feelings have been consulted. This done and we have no fear of the result. A refusal to do this will clearly develop the point that party lines were never more loosely drawn, and that the people will probably cross lines, and vote for the men they deem best suited to represent them. We hope these plain facts will be borne carefully in mind to-day.

THE HEATED TERM.

We are not disposed to assume ourselves possessed of weather wisdom. There is a vast deal of uncertainty about it all,—and only those who have a taste for the study of weather phenomena, and who continue their observations through a series of years, can have even proximate ideas concerning the tendency of weather. But we can comment on actual verities,—on the uncomfortable phases of experience which are at hand, and which are as astonishing as they are real. It is not entirely phenomenal to have warm weather in June; but to have it in early June, and so suddenly after the storms and cold of winter, is, indeed, a new phase of experience. It is but a brief time since overcoats, and fires, umbrellas as shields against storms of rain or snow were common, every day experiences. To-day we have the full heat of Summer, and a sun power, equal to the worst of the dog-days. It is not entirely unusual to have occasional hot weather in June, but to have it so early, and in such intense degree, is very unusual. This month of the present year of grace will be long remembered as one of remarkable fervor and power.

All this has given rise to speculations concerning causes and possible results. If our computation of time is absolutely correct, and the seasons are properly divided, in our calendar of time, why should not heat and cold recur with unvarying regularity? It is thought by many that the changes are not only clearly but permanently marked. A quarter or half a century ago, it is claimed that the Spring was quite advanced in April. Now it frequently happens that it is retarded a month, and the Summer projected into the Fall, and Autumn into Winter, just as much. Yet the exactness of astronomical science, and the perfection of calculations, seem to settle it as a mathematical certainty that our seasons are rightly adjusted, and that the changes noted are only such as will be equalized in a long period, —say a century of time. Others, again, claim that the peculiarities mentioned are attributable to the fact that in moving bodily through space, along with the planetary system to which we belong, we pass through new conditions of temperature, just as we occasionally pass through belts of falling stars. There may be something in this,—but we do not doubt that in a long period of time an equilibrium of heat and cold is reached, just as there is of wet and dry, during each year.

THE Earl of Yarborough, who is said to be frequently drunk as a lord, is again missing, and the police are now making earnest search to find him. On Tuesday last the Earl was in the House of Lords, and a Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms, thinking him in a worse condition than usual, accompanied him into the ante-room. A short time afterwards the Deputy returned to the room, but the Earl was not there. Since then no one who knows him has seen him.

ITALY does not appear to be the only country in Europe whence children are exported to serve a cruel apprenticeship in America. England, if we may believe what the Civil Service Review says, drives also a brisk trade in this line. According to that paper, some startling disclosures are on the eve of being made in relation to the emigration of pauper children to Canada, which has of late years been extensively carried on "under the auspices of a well-known lady." Reports from this side have been received, to the effect that these children are ill treated—being, indeed, practically slaves. The Review asks for the immediate action of the government.

BREACH of promise suits in England furnish the newspapers with an endless supply of entertaining paragraphs. One of the latest cases occurred in Scotland, where some months ago a Miss Agnes Brady sued John McElhennan for breach of promise, but before the case came up for trial, the matter was compromised by paying to Miss Brady a sum of money large enough to soothe her wounded feelings. Soon afterwards, McElhennan's passion again bubbled up to the surface, and for a second time he proposed and was again accepted by Miss Brady. But before the marriage knot could be tied, the swain had again changed his mind and married somebody else. Miss Brady has entered another suit, claiming $5,000 damages, and this time refuses to compromise.

A LETTER from Rome, speaking of the Vatican, says: A curious fact to make record of is that one frequently hears the United States praised for its liberal treatment of the Catholics, both now and, with a few exceptions, in the whole course of its history. The only serious offence charged against the United States is that we will still persist in maintaining those dreadful public schools, which make it less and less hopeful for the Jesuits to find in that vast country ground for the propagation of the doctrines of syllabus and papal infallibility. The priests say that what the Catholic Church has lost in Europe in the past two centuries has been more than made up by what it has gained in the New World. The first steps have been taken, and before long the beatification will be bestowed by the Church upon the name of Christopher Columbus. An examination of its title to the Catholic heroism has for some time, by command of the people, engaged the attention of the doctors of canon law. The claim is sounded upon the great act—little less than that of usurpation—by which Christopher enlarged the boundaries of the Christian world.

The Louisiana Sufferers.

In his pastoral letter appealing for aid for the sufferers by the Mississippi floods, Bishop Stevens, of Pennsylvania, says: "From a private letter just received, and of the highest authority, I learn that 'the appropriations and subscriptions already obtained will, in two weeks' time, be exhausted; and, unless further and immediate aid can be obtained, some 60,000 or 70,000 will die from starvation.' These people have nothing whatever left, and must be supported until the 1st of September, and many of them longer The water still covers the country, rendering it impossible for them to make their usual crops, and when the flood subsides the pestilence will in all probability follow. It is our Christian duty to help these sufferers. They are brethren in the flesh, members of the same body politic, many of them, perhaps, of the same household of faith; and they have the claims of a common humanity, a common citizenship, and a common Christianity, on our hearts and our hands, on our words of sympathy and on our generous benevolence. The cry for help is strong and urgent; the danger is imminent and alarming. Let us make our gifts more valuable by the promptness with which we give, and more worthy of our beneficiaries, by cherishing that Gospel love which transmutes duty into privilege, and which sees in each sufferer, no matter what his creed or color, a 'neighbor' and a 'brother.'"

FOREIGN NOTES.

RUMORS unfavorable to the Prince of Wales are again afloat. It is now said that he is in debt about $300,000 and wishes his mother to pay the amount on the ground that the liabilities were incurred in holding levees at which he represented the Majesty of England. The Queen, it is alleged, takes a different view of the matter, and hence royal family jars are the order of the day.

THERE are to be elections of county officers, August 6th, in Kentucky and Tennessee, and November elections of Congressmen in both States; also, in Tennessee, at the November election, a Governor and Legislature are to be chosen.

A CORRESPONDENT from Wisconsin says that all of the political omens point to a certain defeat of Senator Matt Carpenter in his attempt to return to the United States Senate. The same correspondent predicts the success of the Reform party in the State election, and the sending of perhaps one of the following men to fill Senator Carpenter's seat: George H. Paul, H. L. Palmer, Dr. O. W. Wight, George B. Smith, Gabe Bouck and Gov. Taylor. All of which is further along.

CRUELTY TO HOGS.

A Victory for Henry Bergh.

A victory is chronicled in the courts, says a New York paper of June 4, for Henry Bergh over the hog slaughterers. The suit originated in the interference of Mr. Bergh and his officers three months ago in the business of Edward W. Davis & Co., whose establishment is situated on the North River, at the foot of Thirty-ninth Street. Mr. Bergh found that in slaughtering the hogs a chain was fastened around one of the animal's hind legs, and it was hoisted up suddenly two on more stories, a procedure which frequently dislocated the leg and caused piercing shrieks, which attracted Mr. Bergh's attention. At the proper height the hog's throat would be cut, and before life was extinct, the animal would be thrown into a cauldron of boiling water. Mr. Bergh interfered so far as to command the proprietors to substitute for the chain around one leg a leather strap around both, and to insist that the animals should not be cast into the boiling water until they were dead. It was Mr. Bergh's threat of arrest that brought the proprietors immediately into the Court of Common Pleas to secure a temporary injunction against Bergh, restraining him from interfering and thus injuring their business. The matter came before Judge Larremore on an order to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent, ex Mayor Hall arguing in favor of it, and Messrs. Gerry and Monell opposing it on Mr. Bergh's behalf. The papers for the plaintiff set forth that Mr. Bergh insisted on the animals being knocked on the head with a mallet before the throat was cut, which, however, Mr. Bergh denies; and they go on to show by affidavits of experts in the business that the mode proposed is a bungling one, it being impossible to keep the hog steady so as to receive the blow, and that it was more cruel than the present mode, a whole shower of blows being sometimes required. They show that the plan now adopted is that in use in Chicago and all through the West; that the pork is of better quality when the hog is killed by the process of cutting the throat and allowing all the blood to drain out, whereas, after the animal is first stunned by a mallet the blood does not run so well; and finally they deny the allegation that the still living hogs are flung into the boiling water.

Judge Larremore decided that the society and its agents are authorized by statute to prevent such things as Mr. Bergh describes, and if what he stated is true, it was his duty to interfere. If the society or its officers err when they interfere, they are personally liable, and the p r sons complaining have their remedy by action for damages. The injunction is therefore dissolved.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 9, 1874.

Extreme dullness is the feature of the situation. There is generally a good supply of money at the banks, few borrowers, and those that are accepted are of the business class. Business is enough reduced in volume to reduce very greatly the demand for money. This is the case usually at this season of the year, but it is more so now than has been the case heretofore. The panic last fall, and the lameness of Congress in dealing with financial issues, the veto of the President and the subsequent failure to accomplish anything worth speaking of, have served to very greatly limit the volume of business, and hence that for money. This is the trouble we are now experiencing. It is evident from our dispatches that no bill will be agreed on in compromise committee, at Washington, and that we must now look to the crop for recuperation and revival.

The foreign commerce of the port of New York for the week was: General merchandise imports, including dry goods, $8,265,338; produce exports, $5,158,171, and specie exports, $2,414. The total merchandise imports, including dry goods, since January 1, this year, are $187,072,228, against $192 642,810 last year, and $202,388,552 in 1872. The total exports of produce since January 1 are $137,859,063, against $116,725,078 last year, and $85,511,-in 1872. The total exports of specie since January 1 are $25,154,135, against $22,484,373 last year, and $30,498,864 in 1872.

The House bill reported in the winter for a commission to report on the rates of railway freights lies dormant in the Senate Committee, and the act probably will not be heard of this session. Many who voted for it in the House, it is said, have been quietly working against it in the Senate.

The following paragraph we clip from the money column of the London Times of the 21st ultimo, and can appreciate the position of the many sanguine borrowers on American railroad account looking to that market for means to meet their financial necessities.

"It is reported that several American companies are coming upon the market for loans, the supply here being increased by the fact that after the experience of the past few years, Germany, which at one time readily absorbed nearly all such securities, is no longer willing to enter the field. Looking at the matter in a purely speculative point of view, as well as at the recent acts of Western Legislatures, and the indications even at Washington of a disposition to ignore the vested rights of corporations, together with the way in which the Erie Railway and other undertakings principally held by English investors are made the subject of especial attack (the fate of the United States Railroad showing at the same time that nothing in the country, however national or vast, can be safe from the wealth and power of Jay Gould), it will be instructive to watch how far our capitalists may be disposed to believe that the various shares, bonds or debentures likely now to be brought over for their acceptance are to be taken as eligible investments."

NEW YORK, June 8, 1874.

The customs receipts were $291,000. Money was easy at 2@3. Sterling was steady at 487½@488 for sixty days, and 490@490¼ for sight. Gold ranged at 110¼@110⅞, and closed at 110¾. The carrying rates were one per cent. Loans were flat. The clearings were $67,000,000. State and railroad bonds were quiet and firm. Governments were firm. Stocks opened dull, and declined ½@⅞, but soon became steady and continued so throughout, with an advance in prices ranging from ½ to 1¾ per cent., the closing quotations in most cases having been the highest made. Business was well distributed, although the greatest activity was in Lake Shore, Western Union, Pacific Mail, Union Pacific, Wabash, New York Central, and Northwest, and in the Pacific list. Erie also displayed exceptional weakness, having declined from 32¾ to 31¾ regular, and 31¾ seller thirty, these having been the closing quotations. This decline was in sympathy with the weakness at London, where the price was reported as low as 29¾. There were many rumors afloat in regard to the company, the most important one being that McHenry had arrived at London to-day, and was to-night to make a new deal for the coming election. The sales were 35,000 shares, of which 35,000 were Western Union, 17,000 Pacific Mail, 7,000 New York Central, 10,000 Erie, 26,000 Lake Shore, 15,000 Union Pacific, 8,000 Wabash, and 5,000 Northwest.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, June 8, 1874.

APPLES—The supply continues very meagre, although there are but few wanted at the price: $@3 ₱ brl, according to quality and condition.

ASHES—There is some little inquiry, but, as a general thing, trade is dull, as it usually is at this particular time; prices remain without quotable change.

ALE—Brewers nearly all complain that business has been very unsatisfac ory all season: not only has the demand fallen off, but there has been no margin for profit, as no advance was made notwithstanding Barley cost just about double what it did last year. X, $4 ₱ brl to city, and $4 to country; XX, $10. India Ale, $11. Half prls in proportion.

BEANS—The market is firmer, and under the influence of an increased demand and diminished receipts, prices are a shade higher: we now quote, in a jobbing way, at $2 25 ₱ bushel for good navies and $2 40@2 50 for prime navies: the market, however, is very dull: indeed, commission merchants may be said to be out of the business as they are receiving but very little, and if it just as well, as they could hardly dispose of it if they did. Farmers and peddlers are now able to supply the market, and prices, since the date of our last weekly report, have still further declined: we now quote at 1@2 50 for good to choice Jolly packed and $2 2 for inferior to prime: Jolly packed, at the above rates, are the particular time, has fallen off largely.

BROOM CORN—The inquiry continues light, and the market is wholly to supply parties' requirements, and while there is rather more offering, the market is possibly a shade weaker, but there has been no quotable change in prices. We continue to quote at 5@6 for common to good red, 7@8 for green, and 9@10 for hurl.

BRESWAX—Advertisers very quiet, and prices are nominal: unchanged: ranging from 25 to 28c ₱ ₱.

BROOMS—No. 2, $2 25@2 50 ₱ dozen; No. 3, $2 50@2 75; No. 4, $3@3 25; No. 5, $3 25@3 50; No. 6, $3 75@4 25. Carpet Brooms, $4@4 25. Whisps, $1 50@1 75.

BAGGING—Penn Mill two bushel bags, 35c; two and one-half bushel, 42; three bushel, 50.

COPPER—Following are the card rates, cash as reported by Park & Co.: Braziers' Copper, 32 ₱ sheets and upward, 36c. Braziers' Copper, 10, 11 and 12 ₱ sheets, 38c. Braziers' Copper, 9 ₱, and less, 41c Circles: under 9 in. diameter, 38c. Circles, 84 in diameter and over, 40c. Seamless Planished Tinners', 36c. Sheathing Copper, 14 in. by 48 in., 33c. Bolt Copper, 34c. Bottoms, 38c. Circles, 84 in diameter and over, 40c.

HOME NEWS.

Temperance Mass Meeting.

There will be a mass meeting of the W. C. T. U., this afternoon at 2½ o'clock, in the First Methodist church, Fifth avenue, above Smithfield street.

Forbes Street Improvement.

The contract for paving Forbes street was awarded yesterday afternoon to J. L. & W. H. Hastings, to lay the Parisen asphalt and Macadam pavement. The improvement will amount to about two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Throwing Glass.

Last evening Alderman Hoerr of the South Side, committed George Volk to jail for Court, on the charge of aggravated assault and battery preferred by Charles Werner. They are both boys residing in the Twenty-seventh ward. They had had some ill feeling between each other, when Volk threw a piece of glass out of a window striking Werner on the face and nearly severing the nose.

Temperance Alliance.

Yesterday morning the Temperance Alliance held their regular weekly meeting. Rev. E. E. Swift occupied the chair. The time for holding the convention was discussed at some length, and on motion, the following committee was appointed to co-operate with the ladies in making arrangements for the convention to be held on the 24th and 25th days of this month. Mr. T. H. Rabe, Mr. Powell, Rev. Mr. Ellis, Rev. Mr. McMillen, Mr. Luther Kaufman, Rev. Mr. Brown and Mr. Rogers.

Help for Louisiana.

Bishop Kerfoot has requested that the collections, to be taken up at the meeting of the Diocesan Convention in Trinity church, on Wednesday morning, be appropriated to the relief of the Louisiana sufferers. It is hoped that the offerings of the congregation will be liberal, and any persons who may desire to contribute to this most worthy object, and be unable to attend the opening services of the Convention, are requested to send their offerings either to Bishop Kerfoot, Rev. Dr. Scarborough, or Rev. Mr. Costar, Secretary of the Convention.

Would it not be a good idea for our politicians, who meet in convention during the week, to take a hint from the Episcopalians and go and do likewise?

Another Uniontown Jail Delivery.

On Sunday afternoon another delegation of prisoners escaped from that noble institution, the Uniontown jail. That structure certainly must be the most fraudulent one ever erected in Western Pennsylvania. The prisoners who took a walk are Henry Wellandt, Jane Morgan and Hurst McCormick, charged with selling liquor without license. Wm Yauger and Pat. Cross confined for felonious wounding, Eph. Callahan charged with fornication and bastardy, and M. V. B. Hazen held for costs in thirteen criminal cases in which he was prosecuted. The latter however was re-arrested. This makes either the fourth or fifth delivery inside of three months. Jacob Sump, the murderer, who escaped from it a short time ago has not been heard from.

Jimmy Riley's Revelations.

James Riley came home to his wife on Sunday evening in a condition of anything but soberness. In a frame of mind, most humorous, he inquired for "custhard pot with butther on thi" and getting none, he mildly inquired for "crame and shtrawberries." Explanations followed, and as Jimmy generally drank up his wages, his spouse thought the delicacies of the season ought not to be forthcoming. "I'll give yer divil grace for the season," replied he, and gently cavorting his right digit towards her womanly head, succeeded in flooring her. "Aha! will yer divil grace me," shouted he, and then carefully adjusted his boot above her right eye, leaving an ugly gash there. The neighbors heard the row, and a policeman came and took him before Deputy Mayor Salisbury, who sentenced him to sixty days in the Work House. Riley resides in an alley near McKee's glass house, on the South Side.

COUP DE SOLEIL.

A Man Prostrated by the Heat.

Last evening, a man whose name could not be ascertained, got on the Brinton accommodation No. 3, due in this city at six o'clock, at Shady Side. On nearing the Union Depot he became suddenly ill, and shortly after, insensible. Restoratives were applied to him and Dr. Hamilton summoned, who said the man was suffering from sun stroke. He was evidently a laborer. The physician had him removed to the Western Pennsylvania Hospital.

RETIRING MINISTERS.

Two Pulpit Vacancies in Allegheny.

A couple of the United Presbyterian congregations in Allegheny, since Sunday have been taking bird's eye views of the ministerial field with a view of supplying certain vacancies. The churches indicated are the Third on Ridge avenue and the Central on Sandusky street. The Rev. J. W. Bain, pastor of the first named, gave notice of his intention to ask a dissolution of his pastoral relation, to that church. The understanding is that he leaves Allegheny to take charge of the Chicago Mission Church, under a recommendation from the General Assembly. It is intimated that the congregation will extend another call to the Rev. W. G. Moorhead of Xenia.

Rev. J. M. Johnston, pastor of the Central, gave similar notice at the evening service on Sabbath, but there is no intimation given of his future field of labor, as yet.

The Presbytery with which the reverend gentlemen are connected meets to-day, when action will be taken in reference to the resignations.

ALLEGED FALSE ARREST.

An Interesting Point Decided.

A case of somewhat unusual interest was decided yesterday in the District Court before Hon. Judge Ewing. Peter McCoy had sued officers Andrew, Haroum and Patrick Carrigan for damages for false arrest and imprisonment. The plaintiff's son and plaintiff had taken active part in a free fight that occurred on Washington street and Poplar alley. The son was arrested by the policemen and rescued by the father, who afterwards was arrested in his own house, taken before Mayor Blackmore and fined for disorderly conduct. The point raised was whether the officer had a right to arrest McCoy in his own house, after the affray was over, without a warrant, as the fight was still going on. The decision of the court was, that the parties to a free fight could be arrested without warrant after the affray was over, being taken "on view" by the officers, the fact of their participating being sufficient evidence for holding them. The case was ably argued by Mr. John Barton, for the plaintiff, and United States District Attorney Reed for the defendants. The jury decided in favor of the defendants after a very short deliberation, the charge of Judge Ewing having been very clearly made.

SUNDAY'S SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Potts and Donovan Committed to Jail—Condition of the Wounded Man

Yesterday morning, Thomas Potts who shot George R. Edgar on Sunday last, was committed to jail for a hearing on Monday afternoon next. James Donovan who is charged with felonious assault by officer Potts, was also committed until the same time, for a hearing.

EDGAR'S CONDITION

George R. Edgar, though he was in a very critical condition all during Sunday night, and was not expected to survive till daylight Monday morning, seemed somewhat improved yesterday, and last evening appeared quite comfortable, and hopes are now entertained for his recovery. He bears up heroically, and his powerful constitution is something that will stand much in his favor towards surviving his terrible injuries.

OTHER INFORMATIONS.

Yesterday morning Mr. W. J. Rhi, who resides near to where the shooting occurred, made an information charging Mrs. Camach and Mrs. Gibbons with keeping a disorderly house. The women were pinched under arrest.

Another of the participants in Sunday's riot was arrested this morning by officers Pat. Kennedy and Moran and lodged in the Central Station.

Special Meeting Last Night.

Considering the Federal Street Grade—Debating the Plan—The Changes Suggested—The Ordinance Finally Recommitted to be Printed in Detail.

A special meeting of Allegheny Councils was held last evening, that Common Council might take further action on the ordinance for changing the grade of Federal street between South Diamond street and the bridge.

SELECT COUNCIL.

JAMES MCBRIER.....President.
R. T. WHITE.....Clerk.

The following members were present: Messrs. Ackley, Bepler, Cochran, Day, Hartman, McNeill, Omsler, Patterson, Phillips, Riddle, Reineman, Reed, Smith, Sweeney, Thomas, Walton, and McBrier, President.

The object of the meeting was stated by the chairman.

The rules were suspended to take up other business.

Mr. COCHRAN presented a petition for paving Pine alley. Referred.

Mr. SWEENEY, a petition for re-grading and re-paving Cedar alley. Referred.

Mr. HARTMAN presented a final report of the settlement of finances of the portion of McClure township, now annexed to the city. Referred. Adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

H. M. LONG.....President.
ROBERT DILWORTH.....Clerk.

The following members were present: Messrs. Agnew, Brown, Burton, Cochran, Eberhardt, Gschwend, Hastings, Hetzel, Hux, Johnston, Lockhart, Price, Roberts, Sholes, Stedsford, Stone, Wettach, Wilson and President Long.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was on motion dispensed with.

The chairman stated the object of the meeting, and proceeded to take up the ordinance for changing the grade of Federal street.

Mr. SHOLES moved to concur with Select Council in passing the ordinance.

Mr. COCHRAN submitted a new plan for changing the grade of Federal street, from South Diamond street to the bridge.

On motion of Mr. HASTINGS, W. Large, Esq., who represented the property holders on Federal street, who were opposed to the change, was permitted to address Council in the interest of those property holders. He rehearsed the arguments given at the previous meeting of Council, that the proposed change of grade would be no benefit to the property holders on that street, and that it was neither wise nor just to make the change and compel them to pay for it. If it was a benefit to others outside of Federal street, they should pay for it. He continued at considerable length in opposition to the adoption of the ordinance.

Messrs. COCHRAN and PRICE spoke in favor of the new plan.

Mr. HASTINGS said he had spoken to nearly every man on the street, and had found but a few persons at the lower end of the street who favored the change and they only wanted a few feet filled up. He submitted a new plan for changing the grade of the street, commencing at North alley and cutting off four feet in front of City Hall.

The petition asking for a change of grade signed by parties below Robinson street, was read by the clerk.

Mr. ROBERTS thought the people on the street, according to that petition, had not asked for a change of grade. It was only asked for by a few parties, and they only asked that the questions be settled, so that they could go ahead with their buildings. He thought it was absurd to talk of "improving" Federal street by merely cutting down a little at Park Way and filling up a little below Robinson street. If a good grade was necessary the work should commence below the Park, and then the work would be properly done.

Mr. GOLDEN held that every property owner in the city was interested in this grade, and he thought the question of the Park and Park Way approaches was a disgrace to the city —the third city in the State with such an almost impassable main thoroughfare into it. The street was a bad comment on the city's management. He thought the matter was not new. It had been talked of for the past twenty five years, and it ought to be made of it all ones. He favored the plan as presented by the official authority of the City Engineer.

Mr. LONG favored some improvement of the grade, and if a plan could be devised by which there would be a practical bridge it would pay and a reasonable cut taken off the "chimp" at Park Way, he would favor the plan. He did not favor the first plan because he thought the cuts were so deep and the fills so much that the whole street would have to be made over or have to be changed, and the water pipes raised. The cost of this would be immense, and he thought there ought to be some account taken of this. He was ready to dispose of the business.

Mr. STONE spoke in favor of a change of grade, and thought the matter ought to be in some way decided without unnecessary delay.

A motion was made to lay on the table, upon which the yeas and nays were called, with the following result:

YEAS—Messrs. Brown, Peters, Roberts and Wettach—4.

NAYS—Messrs. Agnew, Burton, Cochran, Eberhardt, Gschwend, Golden, Hare, Hastings, Hetzell, Hax, Johnston, Lockhart, Price, Sholes, Stedsford, Stone, Wettach, Wilson and President Long—13.

The discussion was then resumed for a brief time, after which the question came up on a motion to recommit to the Street Committee to report an ordinance defining the various changes of grades at different points, and to submit the names of viewers to assess damages and benefits.

The motion to recommit was carried by a vote of 13 to 10.

Adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Last evening Tony Pastor's combination appeared to a crowded house. The inimitable Tony brought up in his budget of vocalisms, with E. D. Davis did his ventriloquism; the Garnella brothers, their gymnastics; Ella Wesner, her changes, and a long list of specialties were presented, almost too numerous to mention. Mr. Pastor's troupe is undoubtedly a good one, and Larry Tooley, Billy Barry, Walters and Morton, Kitty Brooks, Billy Ashcroft, and Miss Ada Clarke Company appeared to good advantage and gave a good programme of rare excellence. They appear again this evening and the balance of the week, so the box office is open during the day for securing of seats.

FRIENDSHIP PARK—The Races—This afternoon the Friendship Park Driving Association will inaugurate their summer meeting, which will continue three days. Ample arrangements for first class trots have been made, and this meeting, it is intended, shall prove a feature in Pittsburgh turf history. Accommodations for ladies have been made, and the police arrangements are very complete. To-day's races will include a trot, open to all horses that never beat three minutes, for a purse of five hundred dollars, for which six entries have been made. The public may expect rare sport, as the horses are evenly matched, and the contests will be close and exciting upon each day. The races commence promptly at three o'clock in the afternoon.

[Before Judge Stowe.]

The case of L. L. Book was settled on payment of costs. The charge was assault and battery.

Robert Mathews, indicted for selling liquor to a minor, was acquitted, but directed to pay half the costs, and the prosecutor, Benjamin Myers, the other half.

Wm. H. Jones, indicted for larceny and receiving stolen goods, plead guilty and was sentenced to the Work House for one year.

Henry Gibbons was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Joseph Hartman. The prosecutor paid the costs.

John Cupps plead guilty to a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced to the Work House for four months.

Emanuel Jackson was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery and the prosecutor, Evans E. Davis was directed to pay the costs.

A nolle prosequi was allowed in the case of S. M. James, charged with perjury. The circumstances of this case have already been fully published. It was quite clear that the prosecution was the result of malice on the part of certain saloon keepers, urged on by certain Aldermen of the city.

Robert Matthews plead guilty to assault and battery. Sentence deferred.
